

A new musical by Paul Syrstad

Premiere at the Brewhouse, Burton on Trent
Friday 11th December — One night only!

Come and see this fantastic new production by a young local talent from Willington.

A very topical, thought provoking and engaging story told through dialogue and song by the cast of 17 young local actors.

The story is about gang culture and knife crime, and how conscience and love can lead youths away from a life of crime.

A very topical subject!

Follow a gang member called Noel, the struggle with his inner self, his love and his courage to 'Stand and be counted'.

Will Noel break free from this life of revenge, knife crime and 'Intimidation'?

The songs are all written by Paul and are orchestrated by Ed Watkins and Robert Scott, both from Willington.

More about Paul

Paul was born in Spain and came to England in 2004 after growing up near Dubai (UAE) with his Norwegian father and English mother.

Paul has always had a passion for performing whether singing, acting or playing his piano.

During the summer, he has been filming a new BYFA (The Co-Operative British Youth Film Academy) feature film called "The Perfect Burger" directed by Todd Carty. Paul played one of the lead roles and is eagerly waiting its release sometime next year.

He has appeared in many other shows such the Derby Christmas Pantomime of "Peter Pan", acting alongside Gary Willmot who starred as Captain Hook.

Paul is often working with another Willington talent; Robert Scott.

They are currently rehearsing for Rob's new musical film

"SCARLETT" which is to be filmed in the spring, where Paul has the lead role. He was also the leading man in Robert's "Truth of a Lie" and has performed in the West-End show "Moonlit Sky" at Her Majesty's Theatre.

Paul has always loved to write, be it songs, plays, stories and now; musicals. He is currently going through the rehearsal stages of "INTERTWINED" where he is co-directing the show and will be playing a part in the musical as well.
